International Agencies which Rely on documentation of the Syrian Network for Human Rights

SNHR documents human rights violations in Syria and aims to defend the human rights of the Syrian people locally and internationally. The network's database and archives are considered as a reliable source and reference for international and local media outlets, and international organizations and agencies working in the field of human rights.

Below is a group of the most notable international organizations and agencies which rely on SNHR's reports. The links below include samples about each reference.
