First: Introduction

ISIL emerged in the name of «Islamic state of Iraq and Levant» in 9th of April 2013 as an emergence of « Islamic state of Iraq (established in 15 November 2006), and Nusra Front (established in 24 January 2012), which refused to comply to this emergence.

Declaration of emergence has encountered by initial civilian rejection by large segments of Syrian activists, in addition to rejection by Islamic factions and brigades of Free Syrian Army as ISIL tried to impose the State on areas under their control.

The initial rejection was soon turned into limited clashes with residents or Armed Fractions, then the clashes developed into all-out and violent war at the beginning of this year, where they use car bombs and improvised explosive devices among civilians, in addition to shell the besieged towns by artillery, which is similar to Syrian-regime behavior in punishing the whole of society.

Origins: the root of ISIL back to ISIL of Jihad's Base in the Country of the Two Rivers (Tanzim Qaidat al-Jihad fi Bilad al-Rafidayn) that was started by Abu Musab al-Zarqawi in 8 October 2004 as extension of main Qaeda organization, despite of the disagreement within Salafi Jihadist Movement on Zarqawi's policy.

This rift deepened more because of many reasons as:

- The declaration of «ISIL» led by Abu Omar al-Baghdadi in 15 November 2006
- ISIL's policy which contributed in the defection of most of their allies and sympathizers
- The negative public opinion caused by the flagrant violations against residents whether in Sunni or Shiite areas, and their focus on the bombings in Shiite areas because of their sectarian characterizing of the regional conflict in general and to Iraqi conflict in particular.
- Adopting radical theories permitted the kill their violators who challenging their rules, even if they were from the same Jihadist Movement.
- Its methodology of bombing among civilians, torturing, and assassinations.

At the Local Level in Syria: Organization tried to take control over rebel-held cities such as Raqqa and Aleppo, where the early confrontation against their closest ideologically movement ( Qaeda ) represented by Nusra Front helped them, as many non-Syrian fighters (named as Muhajirin) moved to the ISIL's ranks and Syrian as well (but in less proportion), which led to ideological and on ground differentiation between Nusra Front and the ISIL organization, providing intellectual revisions clarify the reason of this differentiation representing in ISIL-radicalism in Takfir ( apostate ) , collide their violators, and imposing themselves as a state on the liberated areas.

ISIL used a very authoritarian and intimidating method to impose dominance in the areas that they occupy, so they intend to arrest members of elected local council, kidnapping media and civilian activists, expulsion the smaller armed factions that unable to resist, and impose themselves as a dominant power in front of disarmed society based without leadership.

ISIL wasn't one of the Syrian revolution's formations, and obviously they have theoretical and on ground dispute with its multiple institutions and movements, don't share with its goals of freedom, dignity and refusing totalitarianism, even in their other Islamic slogans that not related to pledge allegiance as an official State, they consider it as apostate slogans, not to mention their theoretical rejection of regional borders and related projects. that theoretical rejection applied by practical rejection where they mainly depends on non-Syrian members, in addition to melt the Syrian members» belonging to be only for ISIL; alike unilateralism totalitarian regimes approach.

ISIL clearly aimed to extend their authority over the larger geographic area that guarantee for them headquarters, material resources and supplies lines under siege and persecution imposed in Iraq, therefore extend into rebel-controlled areas is a priority on expansion into areas controlled by the Syrian regime especially in Raqqa and Aleppo, because its more easy to control them in comparing with the regime»s area, because the armed brigades either engaged in fighting with regime, or the they don»t want to start clashes with the state, in addition the rebel-controlled area is strategically the required geography for the ISIL.

ISIL use decapitation publically as a method of intimidation, it was limited at the beginning on regime»s prisoners, sometimes Shiite and Alawite civilians without any prove and within courts that lacks to the minimum standards, then those acts extended against fighters of Free Syrian Army and other Islamic Brigades, in addition to torture prisoners, and mass killing. ISIL intended to provoke Islamists as competitors on Religious Legitimacy that reflected in intensive collision with Nusra Front and Sham Islamic Freedom Movement, in addition to arresting media and civilian activists, and imposing restrictions of freedom of expression in areas under their areas.

Most prominent violations and clashes committed by ISIL that led to the major confrontation in 2 January 2014, are the following:

- Clashes in Dana town of Idlib countryside in 5th and 6th of July 2013, after civilian demonstration against the ISIL, followed by clashes between « Hamaza Asad Allah « Brigade of FSA and ISIL, it ended with beheading of Fadi Qash, the brigade»s leader, and put his head in the public square, and taking control of the city after clashed led to kill civilians.
- Kill Kamal Hamami leader of Al-Ezz bin Abdul Salam Brigades in the Syrian coastal province in 11 July 2013.
- Accused in killing Shiekh Yousef Al-A»shawi, head of Shariah board in A»zaz city in 7 August 2013.
- Fighting with Ahfad al-Rasul Brigade in Raqqa 1 August 2013, where ISIL shoot and killed civilians by heavy guns in peaceful demonstrations, then explode Ahfad al-Rasul headquarter by car bombs in 13 August 2013, followed by the brigade withdrawal, the city of Raqqa suffered from dozens cases of detentions and torturing of civilians and activists by ISIL as happened in Aleppo too.
- Kill the relief activists in Sham Islamic Freedom Movement « Ahmad Fahmi Nainal» after ISIL arrested him in Malaysian Relief Convey in 10 September 2013.
- Clashes with Northern Storm Brigade in Ia»zaz of Aleppo countryside until they control the city in 18 Sep, 2013, and fighting with FSA in Hazano in 22 Sep, 2013.
- Clashes with al-Hijrah Allah brigades in the coast, kill, torture their prisoners and deform their bodies in 11 November 2013.

- Behead the fighter MohamadFaris Al-Maroushof Sham Islamic Freedom Movement by ISIL in front of civilians in Aleppo, in 13 November 2013.

-Shelling the headquarters of Tawhid brigade in Barsaiamountain 15 November 2013.

- Clashes with Sham Islamic Freedom Movement, who became part of Islamic Front in Mas-kan of Idlib countryside in 8January2014.

- Kill the dentist Hussein Sulieiman; the commander of Sham Islamic Freedom Movement, under torture in ISIL detention in 31 December 2013, where they arrested him in their headquarter after he was trying to talk with them to make a truce in Maskana incidents.

At the Regional Level: Expanding of the announced sectarian Iranian project in the area in addition to the political and security-sectarian persecution in Iraq, as thousands of Iraqi and Iranian Shiite fighters flowed to Syria to for fighting alongside the regime who kept provoking sectarian feelings by committing sectarian massacres against Sunni civilians, especially in sectarian congestion areas ( like Homs and the Coast ), all these factors helped them in gaining legitimacy and credibility, and supported them in expanding into fighter or civil society, because ISIL adopted regional- sectarian characterizing of the conflict, provide Jihadist coverage to face the biggest sectarian project in the region in addition to the most roughness appearances because of their combat clothing, that constitutes a very important symbolictemptation in fight psychology.

On the other hand, the limited - support policies in the rebels-controlled areas contributed in lack of relief and administrative possibilities, led to move fighters to ISIL that has a big finance, and helped in earning some popularity because of their relief efforts.

At the International Level:The leniency shown by theInternational community's policies towards Al-Assad regime are devoted for the continuance of the conflict, without providing real help to the Syrian people at relief, political, or military levels, in addition to the double-standards terrorism speech that constitute symbolic violence against Islamists in addition to form a cover for material violence against them.

And to justify the failure in toppling Al-Assad regime for being protector dam against Islamists expansion, who considered all as terrorisms in spite of huge differentiation in Ideology, structure and goals, that contributed in the Syrians isolation where their humanitarian suffering reaches to a very tragic stages, feeding extremism paths and again provided credibility and legitimacy to ISIL's thoughts which radically- reject the West, and has exceeded Syrian revolution's principle concerning freedom, justice and reject tyranny.

Now the future of ISIL is at a crossroads because of widespread clashes with Free Syrian Army and Islamists Factions, their multiple violations committed against detentions and civilians, expanded use of car bombs, discovering many mass graves for ISIL's detainees, and daily ongoing discovering of violations.

This report attempts to highlights the violations and illegalpractice of ISIL in the period covered.

Third: Conclusion and Recommendations

I: ISIL members are non-Syrian majority aims to establish a Caliphate (is an Islamic state led by a supreme religious as well as political leader known as a caliph) all around the world, so their aspirations and aims radically differ from the Syrian people's aims of establishing a pluralistic democratic State, and thus cannot be legally classified as a faction of pro-Syrian people after the report showed by evidence and figures what ISIL commit against the Syrian people.

II: slaughtering and sectarian massacres committed by Government forces and affiliated militiamen (Shabiha) are clearly contributed in attracting a huge numbers of people from around the world to fight under the flag of Islamic State of Iraq and Levant, and that what the Syrian Government planned by committing more than 42 sectarian massacre, as in Hawla, Deir Baalban, Al-Rifain neighborhood in Homs, Jdaid Alfadl, Baniyas, Tremas and others, The leniency shown by the International community towards Syrian government, helped them in committing these crimes against humanity

III: the Syrian Revolution Factions in their variants thoughts and ideologies fought ISIL, and they consider it as a threat on Syrian people and their rights to life, liberty and justice. At least 525 armed rebels were killed during clashes between armed opposition factions and ISIL, which constitutes another invulnerable evidence that no objectively human rights or media hands can classified ISIL as a faction of the armed opposition.

IV: ISIL arrested people because of opinion, and use violent means of torture, is some cases torturing to the death, adding to their beheadings approach and intimidation the public, evidence of committing mass killings of detainees, the use of car bombs amid civilians, and shell populated areas by artillery, all are war crimes that their perpetrator must be held accountable against who committed or contributed in it.

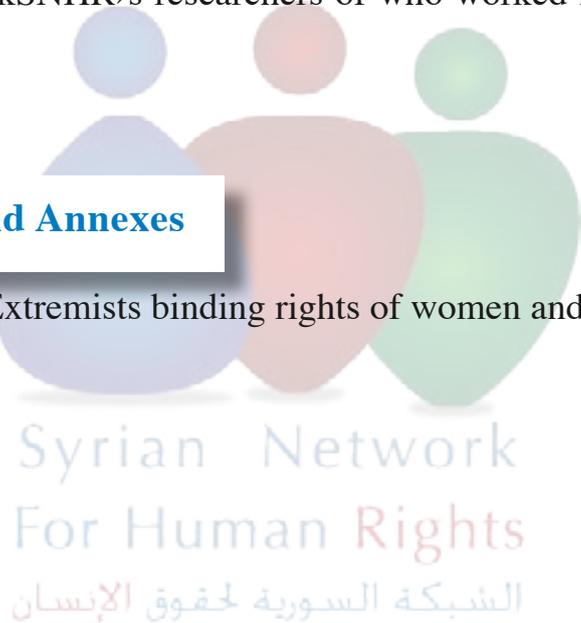

IIV: the Security Council should impose an Arms embargo on ISIL , and to prosecute all those involved .The opposition should cooperate by all possible means to stop the flow of men and weapons to the ISIL , all similar organizations and any person providing such organizations with money or weapons should be regarded as a war criminal and must stand trial for war crimes.
