A comparison between the victim numbers in Syria and the victim number in Gaza

The Syrian regime kills more civilians than the Israeli regime

Methodology:

Period of time covered by the report: 7 July, 2014 – 10 July, 2014

Numbers of Palestinian victims: are according to The Ministry of Health in Gaza

Numbers of Syrian victims: are according to Syrian Network for Human Rights

Details:

Israeli forces have killed in its military campaign against Gaza strip 87 civilians including 19 children and 12 women at least. This high percentage (36%) demonstrates the use of excessive force and indiscriminate shelling to deliberately target civilians by Israel which can be classified openly as a war crime.

In the same period of time, Syrian government forces have killed more civilians as we documented the killing of no less than 134 civilians including 25 children, eight women, and 21 victims who died under torture.

The following table compares the numbers of the Syrian victims and the Palestinian victims in the same period of time:

Recommendations:

The Security Council:

1- To work on applying the principle of “R2P”, adopted by the U.N. in 2005, in Syria.

2- To uphold its responsibilities to maintain peace and security in the region.

3- To adopt immediate sanctions against all those who involved in these widespread violations and refer them to the I.C.C.
