

International Agencies that Rely on the Syrian Network for Human Rights Documentation

SNHR

SYRIAN NETWORK FOR HUMAN RIGHTS

الشبكة السورية لحقوق الإنسان

The Syrian Network for Human Rights, founded in June 2011, is a non-governmental, non-profit independent organization that is a primary source for the United Nations on all death toll-related statistics in Syria

The Syrian Network for Human Rights documents human rights violations in Syria. The network aims to defend the human rights of the Syrian people locally and internationally. The network's database and archives are considered as a reliable source and reference for international and local media, and international organizations and agencies working in the field of human rights.

Below is a group of the most important international organizations and agencies that rely on SNHR's reports. The links below include samples about each reference.
