I. Introduction

Killing, destruction, and displacement are now at the same levels they were prior to Ankara Ceasefire Agreement in Syria. We have been stressing since the first cessation of hostilities statement in February 2016 that the ceasefire won't hold for more than a few days as long as there are no harsh consequences enforced on the violators of the cessation of hostilities. According to SNHR's team who is working daily on monitoring and recording the breaches, the main party behind the breaches is the Syrian regime and the pro-regime Iranian militias who have been responsible for approximately 70% of the breaches.

Fadel Abdul Ghany, chairman of SNHR, says: "People in the Syrian society don't care for the negotiations and talking about it. The main reason for that is the fact that there haven't been any reflections on the ground with regard to the ceasefire. All efforts have failed so far to apply pressure on the party that is mainly responsible for the human and materials losses which is the Syrian regime, simply because they weren't real, serious efforts."

SNHR documented the breaches that were committed by the parties to the conflict when Mr. Kofi Annan's six-point plan was submitted in April, May, and June 2012 through daily reports. We kept sending daily copies of these reports to Kofi Annan's office in Geneva until the plan was proven to be a failure especially because the Syrian regime continued to commit what were even beyond mere breaches, which manifested in violations that amount to crimes against humanity and war crimes, as we documented many of these crimes.

We did the same with the two Cessation of Hostilities ceasefires which were established on February 27, 2016, while the second ceasefire was on September 12, 2016 where we documented the breaches committed by the signing parties. The main party to violate these ceasefires was the Syrian regime and his Iranian ally, and the Russian regime.

On December 30, 2016, a comprehensive ceasefire agreement was announced under a Russian-Turkish sponsorship. The signing parties, the Syrian regime on one side, and armed opposition factions on the other side, pledged to cease all combat offensives including airstrikes, and to cease raids and advancements on the ground. However, military areas under the control of ISIS (Self-proclaimed the Islamic State) were excluded from the agreement.

This report sheds light on the most notable breaches committed (Combat operations and arrest operations) by the parties that are bound by the Ceasefire Agreement (Syrian and Russian regime and armed opposition factions) in areas under the control of armed opposition factions and areas under a joint control (armed opposition factions and Fateh Al Sham Front "Formerly al Nusra Front") from the day the Agreement went into force, Friday, December 30, 2016, until Monday, February 28, 2017. The report doesn't include any combat operations in ISIS-held areas. We have reviewed the pictures and videos we received and verified their authenticity using a private software. Also, we have talked to survivors, victims' families, or eyewitnesses to some of the incidents.

II. Executive Summary

The report includes the most notable breaches that were documented after two months of Ankara Ceasefire Agreement which went into effect on Friday, December 30, 2016. There have been 533 breaches divided into combat operations and arrest operations.

The breaches are distributed by the perpetrator party

A. Syrian regime forces (Army, security, local militias, Shiite foreign militias): we recorded 447, as follows:

- Combat operations: 370 breaches, which are distributed across Syrian governorates as follows:

- Arrest operations: 77 breaches, resulting in the arrest of 619 individuals, including 25 children and 49 women (Adult female). The arrests are distributed across Syrian governorates as follows:

B. Russian forces: we recorded 60 breaches through combat operations, including two breaches using cluster munition and one violation using incendiary weapons in Idlib governorate. The breaches are distributed across Syrian governorates as follows:

Hama: 3

Aleppo: 16

Idlib: 40

Daraa: 1

C. Armed opposition factions: 15 breaches through combat operations, which are distributed across Syrian governorates as follows:

Hama: 3

Aleppo: 12

D. Breaches the perpetrators of which haven't been identified, perpetrated by the Syrian regime or the Russian regime (investigations are still ongoing to accurately identify their perpetrators): 11 breaches through combat operations, distributed across Syrian governorates as follows:

Daraa: 8

Damascus: 2

Hama: 1

These attacks resulted in the killing of 331 individuals – 325 civilians, including 107 children, one fetus, and 56 women (Adult female) in addition to six opposition fighters. The distribution of the death toll by the perpetrator party is as follows:

The Syrian regime: 209 individuals including 53 children, 25 women, and three opposition fighters

The Russian regime: 92 individuals including 43 children, 25 women, one fetus, and three opposition fighters

Armed opposition factions: 10 civilians including four children and three women

Parties we didn't identify, the Russian regime or the Syrian regime (Investigations are still ongoing to accurately identify the perpetrator): 20 civilians including seven children and three women

II. Details

In this report, we highlight the most notable new breaches that were documented in the second month since Ankara Ceasefire Agreement went into effect in Syria. Additionally, the report includes a number of breaches that occurred in the first month, but weren't included in our past reports, as those incidents were still being investigated.

III. Recommendations

The Russian regime

Considering that most of the breaches were by the Syrian regime and its ally on the ground the Iranian regime, who both would be the most affected by any political agreement that aims towards a comprehensive settlement, the Russian regime, being a primary sponsor of the agreement, must apply pressure on the Syrian-Iranian regime to compel it to seriously commit to the agreement's provisions. Otherwise, the ceasefire will ultimately fail.

Russian forces have to not breach the agreement, and cease bombing civilians. Any other breaches by the Russian forces, who should supposedly oversee the implementation of the agreement, will demolish the credibility of any future Russian sponsorship.

The Turkish government

Seeing that Turkey is the other party sponsoring the ceasefire, the Turkish government must follow-up with the breaches that were committed at the hands of armed opposition factions, and insure that such breaches won't reoccur in order to preserve the success of the truce.
