

Ethnic Cleansing Massacres that Will Effect the Transitional Justice and Coexistence The Complete Documentation of Al Fan Al Shamali Massacre in Hama Countryside

Due to the geographical location of the village and it's placement between pro-government Alawi sect majority villages, and due to the Al Fan village support of the popular uprising, the pro-government Shabiha with support from the security forces threatened to destroy the village many times.

As the three systematic steps of all the previous massacres carried out by government forces:

Siege and shelling and cutting of electricity and communication

Raids

Extrajudicial killing, slaughtering, theft, robbery, and arrests

On Sunday, September 2, 2012, government forces' tanks, soldiers, and Shabiha surrounded the village as the tanks started heavy and extreme shelling destroying several homes killing the people in their beds.

The second phase was raiding the village and robbing the shops and burning it and burning the houses and killing the livestock including cows, all to spread fear and terror between the people.

An eyewitness told us that government forces gathered a number of the village young men in the village square and opened fire on them executing them arbitrary with cold blood.

This small village residents lost 31 citizens including a woman as some of them was executed in their homes.

SNHR team in Hama managed to document the death of 31 victims from the villagers who were killed in addition to 50 wounded as the government forces abducted several residents and they are so far still missing.

Videos of victims:

SNHR have warned over and over that this action will generate reactions that we as a civilian organization or any other can avoid in light of the government forces ban of the humanitarian and aiding organizations around the world from entering the country and educating the people, this sectarian act will have a negative dark effect on the transitional justice and coexistence phase.

The children victims Ali and Kana'an Hassan Al Khlaif:

Conclusions:

SNHR consider the crime of murder that took place in Al Fan Al Shamali village a crime against humanity, as it isn't the first incident and it became an almost daily incident on a level that include all the Syrian governorates in a systematic widespread way.

This massacre repeated nature and the level of the excessive force used in it, as well as the random shelling and organized nature of the attacks can't take place without superiors orders and is a State policy.

Recommendations:

To the Syrian government:

The immediate end of all human rights violations

Respecting all its international commitments such as protecting civilians in the time of war, and respecting all the international humanitarian rules and the International Human Rights Law.

To Human Rights Council:

Demanding of the Security Council and the concerned International Organizations to shoulder its responsibility towards the killing, the arrest, rape, and displacing the Syrian people are suffering.

Pressing the Syrian government to stop the killing and torturing and release all the abducted individuals.

Holding the allies and supporters of the Syrian government –Russia, Iran, and China- morale and legal responsibility of what's happening to the children of Syria.

Provide more seriousness and care towards the victims' families of the tragic situation in Syria.

To Security Council:

Make a decision to bring all involved criminals to the International Criminal Court.

Warn the Syrian government of the consequences of the brutal violent methods and systematic killing and send clear messages clarifying it.

To Arab League:

Demand the Security Council and Human Rights Council to give the issue of the daily killing the attention required for it.

Serious and intense care of this case and putting it under constant care and follow up and try to help and support the families of the victims emotionally, financially, and in matter of education.

Political and diplomatic pressure on the main Syrian government allies- Russia, Iran, and China- to stop them from supporting and providing International and political protection and covering for all the crimes committed against the Syrian people and holding them fully responsible legal and morale aspects for all the Syrian government violations.
