Limitless Shelling
Government Forces Destroy Aleppo with Rockets and Barrel Bombs
The Scope of the report: to examine the destruction of Aleppo city during a given period of time as an example of the bombing, killing, and the continuous destruction.

The period of time that this report covers:
from 28/1/2014 until 14/2/2014

A report prepared by: The Syrian Network for Human Rights (SNHR)
Introduction:
Aleppo city was, over the past few months, a subject of a heavy barrel bombs shelling especially on Aleppo and its countryside. These air strikes were before and during Geneva 2 conference where the deputy foreign minister Faisal Al-Meqdad stated that the regime is using barrel bombs in order to protect civilians, despite the fact that these strikes were indiscriminate on the residential areas and the most crowded places, which led to huge numbers of casualties and wounded in a few weeks, in addition to destroying a large section of Aleppo city and displacing tens of thousands of the residents to the Turkish borders. Furthermore, the hospitals and medical staffs were overwhelmed and incapable of meeting these arising and horrible needs to contain the damage in what looks like a plan to forcibly evacuate the city of its residents, causing damage to the city facilities as much as possible, and killing as many victims as possible, especially among the civilians. These air strikes are just a continuation of this humanitarian tragedy that the Syrian people are experiencing, not to mention that it killed the possibility of a political solution and contributed even more in confirming the path of violence as a sustainable reality.

This report looks on the use of barrel bombs by the Syrian regime’s warplanes against Aleppo and its countryside from 28/1/2014 until 14/2/2014, documents the magnitude of destruction and casualties, and evaluates the percentage of the civilians, women, and rebels of those victims.

The Approach
The approach of this report is based on the investigation conducted by the SNHR’s team with activists, eyewitnesses, and survivals from Aleppo. These investigations included field-visits, taking pictures, and preparing written reports in addition to the interview that we conducted with eyewitnesses and survivals, and the news and pictures we received via cooperating activists during the period of time in which this report was prepared. Also the SNHR’s team checked all the pictures and videos that it received, and changed the names of the witnesses upon their request.

Executive Summary
The Syrian regime’s airplanes has dropped no less than 508 barrel bombs that contain explosive substances that killed more than 843 people including only six rebels and 837 civilians in 18 days. This suggests that 99% of the victims were civilians. Also these air strikes caused 326 injuries and more than 175000 left Aleppo due to the destruction of their houses and their fear of getting killed every day. After three months of air strikes in addition to the attacks in the past years, quarter of Aleppo was severely destroyed or damaged (Please see several reports by the SNHR about the destruction of Aleppo that was caused by missiles and barrel bombs).

Among the civilians there were 221 children and 119 women (26% children and 14% women, altogether children and women represented 40% of the total victims) who got killed by the air strikes and barrel bombs against several neighborhoods in Aleppo and its countryside in 18 days according to what the SNHR documented from 28/1/2014 until 14/2/2014.

There were four days with more than 90 victims which were the bloodiest given the substantial increase in the casualties numbers (Saturday 1/2/2014, Sunday 2/2/2014, Saturday 8/2/2014, and Sunday 9/2/2014).
Number of Wounded: It was difficult for the SNHR’s team to state an accurate number for the wounded due to a variety of reasons: the rapid shelling against most of the regions during this military campaign, the shelling reaching distant areas in Aleppo countryside, the magnitude of the atrocity and the poor capabilities in general and our inability to comprehend the disastrous results of the campaign. Please note that SNHR’s preliminary estimates of the wounded numbers have exceeded 3260 wounded. Also there are large numbers of the victims underneath the rubbles as the residents weren’t able to extract them to this moment, which would likely increase the number of victims.

Shelling: SNHR estimates that the barrel bombs that the Syrian regime’s warplanes dropped on Aleppo and its countryside in that period of time have exceeded 508 barrel bombs at least in addition to a wide range of missiles and cluster bombs. The shelling focused mainly on the vital and resident areas which were one of the reasons of the increasing numbers of casualties and the huge destruction. Moreover it was noted that the air strikes focused on the rebel-held neighborhoods in the Eastern and Northern regions of Aleppo, in addition to targeting some areas more than once in the same day. Notably enough, the number of victims documented in the last days in this report, Thursday and Friday 13-14/2/2014 may look small compared to the previous days despite there was 92 barrel bombs in those particular days, this could be because of the broad waves of displacement from the liberated neighborhoods that have become unpopulated. The general humanitarian conditions in Aleppo to the date of this report: semi-complete disability in the living facilities in Aleppo. At this point the shelling campaign using barrel bombs against Aleppo’s neighborhoods that are not under the regime control has entered its third month. The bright sunny weather has helped the campaign to go on and the residents’ conditions to get even worse in light of the electricity and water services being cut down for two weeks after the networks were damaged by the continuous air strikes and the lack of any general transportation, also most of the grocery stores were closed. All of this disabled the conditions for residents to live there. The medical sector suffers from shortages in the medical staff and the poor conditions of the field-hospitals in light of the numerous numbers of injuries everyday which can be very critical in some cases. The possibility of medical team getting injured while transferring the wounded is very high due to the continuous shelling which increases the number of victims even more. The civil defense teams are facing several challenges, most importantly is the lack of modern equipments for removing rubbles to rescue the victims in conjunction with the high number of sites that were shelled. There are still thousands of civilians who are stuck in Killis city on the Turkish-Syrian borders the majority of which are children and women, those refugees don’t have any covers, food, or clothes except for what on them.

Conclusions:

1-SNHR affirms that the shelling using explosive barrels against Aleppo governorate, according to all the cases that we addressed, was an indiscriminate shelling that targeted armless civilians, thus the government forces and its militias have violated the articles of the international law for human rights which guarantee the right to live, furthermore these violation were pretreated during a non-international armed conflict which can be classified as war crimes.

2- The random attacks committed by the government forces are considered violations of the norms of the international humanitarian law given that the government forces attacked residential areas rather than a specific military target.

3- These attacks, especially aerial shelling, have caused casual humanitarian and material losses. There are strong indicators that show the damage was deeply severe compared to the expected military advantage.

4- The magnitude of this wide systematic frequent shelling, the level of its excessive strength, its military nature, and the coordinated approach of these attacks must be based on high orders, and a state policy.

Recommendations:

The United Nations and the Security Council

1. Transferring the Syrian issue to the International Criminal Court and stopping the disrupting of the decisions that must be adopted by the Security Council against the Syrian government. This disruption is a wrong message to all dictatorships in the world and an enhancement to the culture of crime.

2. Posing urgent punishment on those who are involved in the violations of human rights.

3. Obliging the Syrian government to allow all relief and human rights organizations to enter Syria, in addition to the International Investigation Committee and allowing them to work freely.

4. Banning the Syrian government all weapons because they are used in comprehensive attacks against civilians.

5. Security Council must shoulder responsibility in preserving security and civil peace in Syria because the violations of the Syrian government are considered gross threat to international peace and security.
6. Listing the militias that fight with the Syrian government and which committed massacres, like Hezbollah and the other Shiite brigades, National defense Army and Shabiah militia, on the international list of terrorist organizations. Among these militias is the Islamic State of Iraq and Syria which committed lots of crimes in the areas that are not controlled by the Syrian government.

7. Implementing the principle of “protecting civilians” adopted by the General Assembly in Syria now, as the situation there is direly requiring such a principle now.

8. After the crimes against humanity committed by the Syrian government, stopping dealing with this government as an “official side” concerning the relief issues, and stopping supplying the Syrian government with the greatest amounts of financial and humanitarian aid that don’t reach those who need them in most cases and go instead to those loyal to the Syrian government.

Human Rights Council:

1. Demanding the Security Council and the involved international institutions to shoulder responsibility concerning the sufferings of the Syrian people which include killing, arrest, rape and displacement.
2. Applying pressure on the Syrian government in order to stop the acts of killing and torture.
3. Holding the allies and supporters of the Syrian government - Russia, Iran and China - as materially and morally responsible for the killing that is happening in Syria.
4. Human Rights Council must be more interested and serious concerning the catastrophic situation of the children, families and relatives of the victims in Syria.

The Arab League:

1. Punishing all those who are involved in committing crimes in Syria and urging all the countries of the world to do the same thing.
2. Increasing humanitarian aid, especially on the levels of education and health care and taking care of the Syrian refugees in the Arab countries.
3. Requesting the Security Council to execute the above recommendations.
5. Taking the Syrian issue very seriously and considering it as a priority, and trying to take care of the families of the victims psychologically, materially and educationally.
6. Applying political and diplomatic pressure on the main allies of the Syrian government; Russia, Iran and China in order to prevent them from continuing to provide international and political backing and protection for the crimes committed against the Syrian people, and holding them materially and morally responsible for all the violations of the Syrian government.
The Syrian Government
1. Instantly stopping all kinds of human rights violations.
2. Respecting its international commitment to protect civilians in the time of war and respecting the articles of the International Human Law as it is one of the sides that endorsed Rome Convention, in addition to respecting the International Law for Human Rights.
3. Allowing instant access to the International Investigation Committee and facilitating its work and cooperating with the United Nations High Commission for Human Rights and national human rights organizations.

The International Investigation Committee
The International Investigation Committee must stop depicting the struggle in Syria as a struggle between two sides equal in crimes, power and the centralization of decisions. It must describe the crimes the same way they happen without belittling their extent for political reasons. The committee must also increase the number of its staff who works on the Syrian issue due to the amount of the crimes committed daily in Syria so that it can do more comprehensive documentation.

Acknowledgments
Thanks for all the victims’ families and activists whatever their specialty is who without their help we would never have finished this report in this level. We also thank the SNHR’s team who worked specifically on this report that took a considerable time and huge efforts to finish it on this level.
