The Syrian Network for Human Rights (SNHR), founded in June 2011, is a non-governmental, independent group that is considered a primary source for the OHCHR on all death toll-related analyses in Syria.

The Killing of Citizen Abdul Karim Ilewi

at the Hands of Syrian Regime Force

The Syrian Network for Human Rights has notified the United Nations Special Rapporteur on extrajudicial, summary or arbitrary executions of the case of the citizen Abdul Karim Ilewi, from al Latamena town in Hama governorate. Mr. Ilewi, who was born in 1944, was killed in an attack by Syrian Regime forces' fixed-wing warplanes in which they fired a missile at his home in al Latamena town on January 20, 2018. The town was under the control of factions of the Armed Opposition at the time of the incident.

As is the norm in all such cases, Syrian authorities have not confessed to killing Abdul Karim, while his family has been unable to submit any complaint about his death for fear of being persecuted by the regime security services for doing so.

SNHR also stresses its grave concerns for the lives of civilians arrested since 2011, as the number of deaths in regime custody continues to rise.
